2. What opportunities do they have to enhance their performance? How will you assist them in their continued development? * 03/24/2025

1. Expand your research beyond our doc portal to gain deeper insights into the features you document. Explore domain-specific documentation for better understanding the functionality and industry writing standards. Improve on the clarity and engagement of feature introductions to make them more informative and user-friendly.
Describe why the feature exists and how it benefits the user? How does the feature fit within the broader MDM system? How can users leverage them? Take initiative in enhancing documentation by proactively researching industry best practices. Look into other companies documentation to understand writing styles, technical standards, and terminology usage, applying these insights to improve clarity, consistency, and effectiveness.

2. Actively participate in product grooming sessions by asking insightful questions. Document key discussions or revisit recordings as needed. - List and share the queries with the developers, and then with PM's for better understanding.

3. Enhance your expertise to visually represent technical information and complex concepts using diagrams, charts, or other visual aids when appropriate.

4. Review and refine the article pages for proper formatting, including bold text, tagging, related links, and cross-links as needed. - Ensure consistency and readability for optimal user experience. (Doc360). Run JSONs in JSON editor. Utilize Quillbot to refine grammar.

5. Conduct or share knowledge sessions on any topic or industry/domain-related topics.

6. Conduct rigorous peer review of self-help flows to minimize rework and improve overall efficiency. Prepare checklist that can help to solve this issue.

3. Reviewing the descriptions included, how would you rate your employee's performance in 2024? * 01/23/2025

Questions for Yashwanth

1. What are your most impactful accomplishments and contributions from the first half of 2026? Be sure to reference your 2026 OKRs in your response. * 06/29/2026

In the first half of 2026, my key contributions aligned strongly with my OKRs around improving documentation quality, enhancing user experience, supporting product releases, and exploring AI-driven efficiencies.

1. Feature Documentation & Product Enablement

I contributed to documenting multiple high-impact features across EDS/Core, CX360, and PX Cloud, ensuring timely and accurate delivery aligned with product releases. Some notable contributions include:

* PX Cloud deliverables on AI Features and Packaging Hierarchy
* EDS deliverables on new features like UI Data Model Dashboard and Auto-classification in bulk (Phase 1 drafts)

2. Documentation Restructuring & Usability Improvements

A significant focus area was improving documentation structure and discoverability:

* Revamped CX360 configuration documentation
* Led restructuring of multiple app documentation sets, including Lionbridge Translation, Digital Product Passport (DPP), and Connector Apps
* Managed deprecated documentation cleanup

3. Release Deliverables & Cross-Team Support

* Updates to 2026.A.R11 Marketplace Release Notes
* Supported multiple EX tickets on EDS and Marketplace tracks
* Enabled engagement initiatives like Release Webinar Popups and InVivo notifications,

4. Ad Hoc tasks and Transitions

* Performed DocPortal terminology standardization (Ascend → PIM Professional)
* Resolved issues like Doc360 pretty print and formatting/broken links fixes,
* Vimeo settings updates.
* Completed transition activity between Marketplace and PX Cloud tracks

5. AI Exploration & Innovation

As part of my continuous improvement OKR, I actively explored AI in documentation workflows:

* Leveraged M365 Copilot and ASK Rovo for content generation and efficiency.

* Conducted PoCs using NotebookLM AI for documentation use cases.
* Explored Doc360 MCP configuration and integration with Copilot Studio agents.

2. What is an opportunity you have to enhance your performance? Share any additional support needed for your manager to assist. * 06/29/2026

While I have made solid contributions, I see opportunities to further enhance my impact in the following areas:

1. Deepening Product & Domain Expertise
2. Contributing to documentation strategy and best practices
3. Leveraging AI for Productivity at Scale
4. Engaging more proactively with product and engineering teams
